Art Unit: 2836

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-11 and 15-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hallin et al. (WO 01/67031 A1).

Hallin et al. disclose a blasting system having a a master device communicating with a plurality of electronic pyrotechnic devices over a bus and wherein after a fire command is issued, a pre-fire countdown occurs prior to any final fire countdown. See Abstract, Figure 2 and Page 3, line 1-17, Page 4, lines 6-22, Page 5, lines 5-8, 30-31 and Page 6, lines 1-31. See also Page 9, lines 15-17. For Claim 19, since delay countdowns can be programmed in the master device and in each of the detonators, a delay register is considered to at least partly contribute to the delay time.

Claims 12-14 and 26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a Statement of Reasons for the Indication of Allowable Subject Matter: It does not appear that the Prior Art of Record discloses nor suggest the claimed combinations including that the countdown delay time is decreased by a predetermined amount each time a fire command is issued.
